

Authorities Continue Investigation In Death

Police Advised Coleman Taken From Vehicle; Involved In Fight

An investigation is continuing in the death of Derek Coleman, 22, Gary, two miles north of Greencastle on Ind. 43 Tuesday night.

State police said today that they had been advised that Coleman had been taken from a vehicle and was then involved in a fight.

Wayne Hopkins, Putnam County Coroner, performed an autopsy Wednesday and reported that Coleman died of multiple injuries including a fractured skull and crushed chest.

Several persons were questioned by authorities all day Wednesday and it is definitely believed that Coleman was not a hitchhiker.

His body was returned to Gary today, coroner Hopkins said.

Grade School Tourney Slated At Reelsville

Tournament basketball competition will come to the Reelsville gymnasium tomorrow night as sixth grade cagers from Reelsville, Fillmore, Jackson Township and Belle Union square off in the first annual Reelsville Invitational Tourney.

The Reelsville and Fillmore teams battle in the upper bracket with tip time set at 6 and Jackson Township's boys go against Belle Union at 7.

The consolation game will be Saturday at 6 p.m. with the championship following.

"We invite all interested to attend," Carl Foreman principal at Reelsville Elementary School said.

He added that the school is hoping to have the tourney on an annual basis.

Tickets are 25 cents for children and 50 cents for adults.

Tiger Cubs' 5-8 guard Brian Cross stuffing the ball? Maybe so considering the way the Cubs are getting fired up for their big encounter with Terre Haute South this Friday night. But then again maybe he had some help. The Greencastle community is invited to turn out for support of the 10-3 Cubs for Cub Capacity night and help boost the team to a victory over the state ranked Terre Haute club.

Putnam County To Have Corn Festival

Rockville has their Covered Bridge Festival, Martinsville has their Fall Foliage Festival, Clinton has their Little Italy Festival and this year Greencastle will have the first annual Putnam County Corn Festival.

The announcement of this new annual event, the idea of Bob Matthews of Prevo's was made Wed. morning at the meeting held by the promotion division of the Greencastle Chamber of Commerce.

The merchants proved to be a concerned and enthusiastic group of people—concerned about the welfare of the Greencastle merchants as a whole and about the Greencastle community and very enthusiastic about the ideas brought up during and after the actual meeting.

Jim Jones of Moore's Shoes mentioned the possibility of the merchants providing a bicycle stand for the convenience of those shoppers who are conscious enough of the energy crisis to turn to riding bicycles rather than driving cars. Those merchants present responded positively to the idea and the Chamber of Commerce will be looking into the feasibility of this proposal.

Matthews also opined that the parking meters downtown should be done away with and again most of the merchants seemed to share his opinion.

Another idea which created some excitement was one voiced by Bob Morrison of Morrison's Tires. He suggested that Greencastle needs to have a slogan to promote the city with the people here and in the surrounding counties. The possibility of a slogan contest was also mentioned.

The 1974 promotion calendar presented to the group by Ken Eitel, Jr. promotion division chairman, lists eight main events for the new year.

The first one, the individual promotion of annual clearance and white sales through the month of January, is almost at an end.

The next promotion for this year will be the annual Dollar Days promotion for clearance of winter and discontinued items to be held Feb. 14-16. Chairman for this event is Jim Grimes of Herriott's.

A new idea is being planned for March 14-16. Mike Goad of Central National Bank will be chairman for Saving O'Green to go along with St. Patrick's Day March 17.

Some time in April will be devoted to a Clean-Up, Fix-Up promotion to tie in with National Clean-Up Week.

May 2-4 will be the Spring Coupon Bonanza chaired by Howell Bell from Montgomery Wards. This will include a drawing with a prize from each participating merchant followed by a grand prize drawing.

Old Fashion Bargain Days, a successful event two years ago, will be revived July 18-20 under the guidance of chairman Jack Schlichtenmyer from G.C. Murphy's.

The first annual Putnam County Corn Festival on Sept. 5-7 will include displays, special western dress and entertainment, carnival rides and booths. The merchants hope to see the entire community involve themselves in this festival.

And winding up the 1974 calendar in Nov. and Dec. will be the annual Christmas promotion with a parade featuring Santa Claus and ending with the car drawing.

Promotion committee members are Eitel, Matthews, Goad, Schlichtenmyer, Grimes, Bell, Flo Morrison from Golden Rule, Lola Schmitt from Lord's and Bob York from Jim Harris Chevrolet.

Murley Visits Local Guard Unit As Part Of Survey

William Murley, site supervisory auditor from the Cincinnati regional office of the U.S. General Accounting Office (GAO) which acts as a watchdog for the U.S. Congress, was at the Greencastle Armory Wednesday.

"As part of its ongoing work with the National Guard and the reserve units of the Army and Air Force, the General Accounting Office is making a survey into the combat readiness of these forces," Murley said. "The 38th Battalion was selected because of its reported high status of readiness."

He noted that there are two main reasons behind the survey. First, they hope to transfer some of the companies to units not at such a high level of combat readiness. And secondly, the GAO is interested in seeing how the forces manage their resources—their personnel, equipment and money.

This high status of readiness accorded the 38th Battalion, determined from reports which are made twice yearly in October and in April, means that the battalion can be mobilized and operate effectively with a minimum of training, according to Murley.

The survey, one of many being done nation-wide with the Air Force, Air National Guard, Army National Guard, U.S. Army Reserves, Navy and Marine Corps, began about a week ago at 38th Battalion Headquarters in Terre Haute and will continue for two more weeks.

Murley will be doing a records check of the people—checking their qualifications—and will make a physical verification of the status of the equipment assigned to the battalion. In the unit's case it will apply mostly to vehicles. Specialists will test the equipment for serviceability and utility while Murley observes the operations.

From this survey, the GAO will get an overview of how the command manages its unit.

Governor Otis Bowen Says Training To Be At Atterbury

Governor Otis Bowen announced Monday that the Indiana National Guard will conduct their two weeks of summer field training at Camp Atterbury this year instead of Camp Grayling, Michigan due to the fuel shortage.

Already plans are being made for the sessions and this year should prove to be different from past years.

In the past the entire 38th Infantry Division, made up of three brigades—the 76th from Indiana and one each from Ohio and Michigan, went to Camp Grayling at the same time, it was learned.

The 38th Infantry Division has three forward supply sections, each having about 18 men, and one of these sections is part of the Greencastle unit.

Company A, the Greencastle unit, is the supply and service unit for all of the 76th Brigade at summer camp, early plans note.

Company A has five officers, one warrant officer and 123 enlisted men, and at summer camp they have taken care of the food, clothing, field bath services, petroleum products, etc., for 12,000 to 15,000 personnel.

Dog Found Not To Be Rabid

The observation period for the dog who bit 11-year-old Christopher Newton ended Saturday with the dog showing no signs of rabies, according to the boy's mother, Mrs. Robert Newton.

Christopher was bitten Wednesday, Jan. 9, at the corner of Hillcrest and Arlington Sts., and the dog was found Friday, Jan. 11, by Bill Gould near the Allison Home on W. Columbia St.

The dog was placed in a veterinary clinic for observation by the Newtons.

The Greencastle Street Department picked-up the dog following the observation period and placed him in the city dog pound. He has since been taken to Morgantown with other stray dogs.

Fornaro Addresses Rotary Club

The Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) may eventually become an all-volunteer project here, Mrs. Suzanne Fornaro told Greencastle's Rotary Club at the organization's noon luncheon in the DePauw Union.

At present, Mrs. Fornaro, who is RSVP director, and her secretary, are the only salaried persons in the program, which has been federally funded under a grant made to the Putnam County Council on Aging and Aged.

Mrs. Fornaro said that the grant was to initiate the program and was not designed to continue indefinitely.

The Putnam County RSVP is one of 600 such projects in the United States and

STARTS TUESDAY

DPU Lecture Series To Examine Multitude Of Women's Issues

A college-community lecture series that will examine a multitude of issues relevant to women will begin Tuesday (Jan. 29) at DePauw University.

The program that will be conducted in a sort of "town meeting" atmosphere is especially open to citizens—male and female—in Putnam and surrounding counties.

The first program is set for Tuesday from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. in the auditorium of the new Science and Mathematics Center. Lectures will be delivered each succeeding Tuesday night for the remainder of the semester.

To encourage community participation in the program underwritten by the Indiana Committee for the Humanities and DePauw, free baby-sitting service will be provided to parents who have young children.

The series of lectures will have an overall theme, "Women in Modern Society." The series' organizer, philosophy professor Howard Simon sees it as a way to lay before the general public as well as DePauw students a whole range of social and political issues relative to women.

"We'll focus on discussion of some policy issues, (the Equal Rights Amendment, divorce law reform, abortion...." Simon said, "and we'll plan to present them in the kind of historical and humanistic context in which the issues have arisen."

Much of the input will come from off-campus speakers from business, government, medicine, social action groups and higher education. Other spokesmen and spokeswomen will be DePauw faculty and staff including artists, psychologists and the University physician.

Women in the Bible, women in art, mental illness among women, and women at home are just some of the topics to be probed each week in the course that has some 85 undergraduates enrolled in addition to the general public that attends.

One of the unique features of the course-series is its availability without charge to the community beyond the campus. Under terms of the grant from the ICH, the lecture-discussion portion of the course will be held Tuesday evenings in an open forum format, according to Simon.

Non-students need only show up to benefit from the 7-9 p.m. sessions in the auditorium of the Science and Mathematics Center on South College Avenue. They face no exams, no grades and don't even have to register. If they want the reading materials for the weekly forums that'll be provided free of charge by the course sponsors.

Students on the other hand are taking the course for one-half or one full course credit. All students will attend the weekly forums and take a final exam. Those taking it for credit will be involved an additional period each week in seminars plus other special work.

Simon said that while many of the lecturers for the 14 sessions have been firmed up, several, including some of national and state prominence, are yet to be finalized.

The opening session Tuesday (Jan. 29) includes introductory remarks, completion of a questionnaire, a few passages on marriage by Robert Benchley, and the 1918 film classic "Woman."

Other weekly sessions include: Feb. 5—The Bible & The Role of Women; Feb. 12—Women & Art; Feb. 19—Medical Aspects of Human Sexuality; Feb. 26—Male/Female: Sex Roles in a Cross

Cultural Perspective; March 5—Mental Illness Among Women; March 12—The Black Woman in Literature; March 19—Spring vacation recess; March 26—A Historical Look at Woman's Estate in America; April 2—From Mrs. Adams to Ms. Feminist Thought in America; April 9—Women in the Labor Force; April 16—The Rights of Women; April 23—Women & Equal Employment Opportunity; April 30—Women at Home and May 7—Women as College Students.

Cooperating in sponsoring the course for the community with the University are the

is designed to give persons 60 years old or older outlets for which they can volunteer. Presently, Mrs. Fornaro has 15 senior volunteers giving their services and by the end of the year, she hopes to build this number up to 100. She said that there are many requests for this type of service.

Some of the volunteers now on duty are working in school libraries as assistants to P.T.A. mothers, another is at the Greencastle-Putnam County Library and still others work in nursing homes, talking to patients, helping to write letters, etc.

Mrs. Fornaro would like for volunteers to contact her since she can use their skills in the program. If names of possible volunteers are given to her, she will contact them in person.

The director said that the goal of the program is to give persons over 60 years old a meaningful life. Through a film, she illustrated the many ways in which volunteers can busy themselves and find a reward in helping others.

Commissioners Meet With Bus Heads

The county commissioners and the superintendents of transportation for the four county school districts met yesterday afternoon to discuss problems the districts were having with school buses getting to certain areas to pick up students.

Commissioner Harry D. Moore said he felt there had been extremely "good communications" between the two groups on the situation. Moore said that Cloverdale and Greencastle had reported no real problems, but that North Putnam buses were unable to get to two families, forcing school children to walk a distance to catch the buses, and the same situation existed with one family in the South Putnam district.

Moore said the situation was caused by a build up of mud on unpaved county roads, due to the recent wet weather in the county. The commissioner stated that there is a 5 ton gross weight limit on such roads, but that all the buses must exceed it when they are full.

Moore To Run For County Commissioner

Commissioner Harry D. Moore announces his candidacy as a Republican for County Commissioner of the second district, subject to the primary election.

Mr. Moore, former owner of Home Laundry and Cleaners, is a past President of the Sheriff's Merit Board, past president and director of the Greencastle Chamber of Commerce, and founder of the United Fund of Putnam County.

Recently, Governor Bowen appointed Moore to the Area Manpower Council, and he serves as a director of the

The county has set a 2-3 ton limit on the amount of stone its trucks can carry on these roads, some of which have recently become stuck on the unpaved surfaces while trying to supply gravel to the roads.

Moore stated that, in the past, situations have arisen where children have had to walk half a mile to a bus stop because of road conditions. He said that "it could happen again because of all the freezing and thawing that's been happening." He said bus drivers have been advised to "use their own judgement" about where to take their buses under these conditions.

No Basic Difference For Women In Social Security Benefits

With all the talk about women's liberation, and equal rights, today's column is primarily for women who may have the mistaken idea social security is different for them than it is for men. So gals, read on.

Actually, there is no basic difference in social security protection for men or women. However, women sometimes ask the question: "If I can get social security on my husband's record, why should I have to pay when I work?" Of course, she could also ask: "If my husband has life inurance, why should I have any?" Think about that for a minute.

Disability protection. As a working woman, you can build up disability protection under social security. If after working for some time you become unable to work because of a severe disability, you can receive monthly payments for as long as you are disabled. If you have children who qualify they can also receive a monthly payment. If your husband is 62 and was dependent on you for at least one-half of his support he can also receive a payment when you do.

Survivor's protection. In case of your death your survivors may be eligible for benefits. Those eligible could include your children, your widower if he had been dependent on you for support and he is age 60 or over, or disabled and between 50 and 60. Also a dependent parent who is 62 or over. A burial allowance may also be paid.

Retirement protection. If you are retired at 62 or later you may receive a monthly payment if you qualify on your own work record even though your husband is still working and able to support you. Payments could also be made to your children who qualify or to your husband if he is 62 or over and was dependent on you for support.

Even though your husband may not retire, you, if eligible because of your own work, can receive your own payment regardless of his continuing to be employed. When her husband finally started receiving social security checks, she can then switch over and draw benefits as a wife if it is to her advantage to do so.

Health Insurance. You may qualify for Medicare at age 65 even though your husband may not be retired or is younger than you. You can also qualify for Medicare at an earlier age if you are receiving disability benefits for 24 consecutive months or longer. This is a change which began July 1, 1973.

Disability Protection For Widows. As a widow between age 50 and 60 you could qualify as a disabled widow for monthly payments on your deceased husband's record if you have a severe disability which prevents you from working.

If you had been married for 20 years and divorced you could qualify for monthly payments on your ex-husband's record after his death as a surviving divorced wife. Changes a couple of years ago removed the support requirement so if you were turned down on a prior application (because your divorced husband had not been supporting you) you may want to check with your social security office to see if you may now qualify.

There's lots a woman should know about social security. Even the woman who has never worked needs to be familiar with what social security can and cannot do.

For instance, does she know that if her husband should die after having worked long enough to be insured, monthly benefits can be paid to her as long as she has a child under 18 in her care or a disabled child of any age provided the child was disabled prior to 18.

But, does she also know there may be a period when no benefits are payable. She must have a child under 18, or disabled, in her care to receive payment. When there is no such child, widow's benefits cannot be paid until she reaches age 60. Thus there could be a period when she might be widowed with no benefits being paid by social security. This is something a man and wife should discuss in their future planning. There is one exception, a widow can receive reduced payments as early as age 50 if she is disabled.

Times Are Changing; And So Are Familiar Products

NEW YORK (AP) — The crazy, mixed up state of economic affairs today is probably best illustrated by those advertisements that say in effect, "Please don't buy our product."

If such a complete reversal of rules were to be forced upon golf, for example, you might see Jack Nicklaus missing a one-foot putt and Arnold Palmer doing his level best to exceed 100.

Utilities that just a few years ago might have told the owner of a new skyscraper to leave his lights on all night for advertising purposes, now tell him to lower the lights during the day.

Gasoline stations that less than two years ago were engaged in price wars and which offered trading stamps and other premiums now give you only half a tank if you're lucky to be there at the right time.

Auto makers who had almost convinced Americans they were deprived if they still owned only one car now advise them, in the words of Volkswagen, "Walk. Shoe leather saves gas."

And the distributors of "throwaway" items, such as metal coathangers, now ask if you would please return them.

The stock market is reacting to these new game rules by regressing into a catatonic stupor. Some of those popular stock market indexes, such as the Dow Jones industrial average, are back where they were eight years ago.

Investors, who clearly wouldn't be in the market if they weren't seeking profits, have even developed a tendency to beware of some of the big profitable corporations, such as the oil companies.

Those companies are making money now, the trepid investor reasons, and that means the government is going to jump on them. Profit is bad, it seems, especially if you make your profits in oil.

Some of the big oil producers never were able to report higher profits than they're turning in now. And the price of their product is rising faster than their expenses. Obviously a good investment? No. Beware.

With food prices being what they are and what they are about to be, it would seem logical that the big food chains that sell the food would be skimming off a bigger portion for themselves.

But, as you would expect, they aren't. When food prices were lower, the profits of most chains were higher, as a percentage of sales, than they are now.

Crazy.

Montgomery Has New Sheriff

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—The Montgomery County commissioners have selected Glen Sillery, an Indiana State Police officer, as the new county sheriff, succeeding Robert Shull, who resigned earlier this week.

Sillery's appointment is effective Feb. 5. He is retiring from the state police force.

The commission interviewed 16 applicants for the job and announced Sillery's appointment today.

Shull had pleaded guilty to four grand jury indictments on misdemeanor charges in a surprise appearance in circuit court last Friday.

Stock Market Has Effect In Your Life

NEW YORK (AP) — You may think that just because you don't own any stock, the market slump last year was a purely academic matter.

But if you are one of the millions of Americans in a corporate pension plan which has heavy investments in the stock market, a few more down years like 1973 could eventually have an impact on your future retirement benefits.

Last year's losses, although they ran into the billions of dollars on paper, will have little if any immediate effect on workers in the plans. Their benefits and contributions are fixed in advance, guaranteed by their companies and protected in a variety of ways.

But if market losses continue much beyond this year, the decline could force pension funds to change their investment policies in order to prevent a broad revision of the future structure of pension funds.

One fund adviser, Martin E. Segal, president of Wertheim Asset Management Service, says a one-year market decline would have "no financial impact of any consequence" on a soundly financed pension fund.

But the 1973 slump followed two relatively lethargic years for the market, and Segal adds that a three-to-five-year decline could have a serious long-range impact.

"It could result in higher employee or employer contributions (to the fund) or possibly downward revision of employee benefit programs," he says.

If a company's assets were greatly reduced by a prolonged market slide, for instance, it might tell workers that instead of receiving retirement benefits based on 2 per cent of their annual salary, their future payments would be figured on the basis of only 1 1/2 per cent.

Segal and other big money managers are predicting that pension funds, in an effort to head off such a situation, may abandon their infatuation with stocks and return to the comparative safety of fixed-income investments such as bonds.

This switch of philosophy by some of the nation's largest investors concerns every worker, because the source of pension funds' massive stock or bond purchases is either employee payroll contributions or corporate money earmarked for employee benefit plans.

The success or failure of these investments can ultimately determine whether workers receive generous or limited benefits. And it can also affect the financial position of the companies which employ these workers.

Police Drug Raids Result In 39 Persons Arrested

BLOOMINGTON Ind. (AP)—At least 39 persons were arrested early today in a series of drug raids at Bloomington and Bedford by federal, state and city agents.

Many of those arrested were Indiana University students.

A state police spokesman said a sizeable amount of cocaine, several pounds of marijuana, and other drugs were recovered.

The spokesman said 23 persons were arrested on federal warrants and jailed at Indianapolis. Sixteen were arrested by state police and jailed at Bloomington and Bedford. The spokesman said bonds ranged from $2,000 to $20,000.

The spokesman said the raid ing officers gathered at the Bloomington National Guard Armory about 10 p.m. Tuesday to coordinate the raids.

State police said undercover operations by state and Bloomington police which led to the raids began last April and more arrests were expected.

One of the agencies participating in the raid was the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration.

Dear Abby

His 'last hope' is a sex change operation

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I am a "hermaphrodite." I have breasts like a woman, and the mind and emotions of a woman, yet the lower part of my anatomy is like a man.

I am 24, and my life has been pure hell. I feel like a freak, and have very few friends. I have wanted a sex change operation for a long time, but my parents are against it. They say I would be tampering with God's and nature's plan.

I have been away from home and financially independent for two years. I don't think I am wrong for wanting to be the sex I think I was meant to be, but I can't get anyone to agree with me.

I have talked to several ministers, and none of them has ever heard of this condition. They think I am "queer." I found one doctor who said he had heard and read about this freakish sexual development but he wasn't able to offer any help.

Abby, you are my last hope. Can you help me?

MISERABLE

DEAR MISERABLE: Yes. Write to the Erickson Foundation, 4047 Hundred Oaks Avenue, Baton Rouge, La. 70808. And tell them Abby told you to write. Good luck and God bless.

DEAR ABBY: In response to your statement that humans are the only animals that blush: You are wrong. Laboratory rats have been trained to blush. Furthermore, I have seen them blush in only one ear! R. E. I.: HOUSTON

DEAR R. E. I.: Something they heard, I presume!

DEAR ABBY: Some stupid wife signed "Day Ruined" didn't want her husband home for lunch because it upset her routine.

I made the same mistake. When my husband started coming home for lunch I asked him to please eat downtown because it upset my routine. He ate his lunches downtown. Pretty soon he started eating his breakfasts downtown, too. And then he started staying downtown for dinner.

He finally asked me for a divorce so he could marry the pretty little waitress who had been serving him his meals!

Fortunately before the divorce went thru I was able to win him back, but I never realized how close I came to having a RUINED life instead of a RUINED DAY.

Nixon Asks Congress To Ease Restrictions On Oil Companies

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon asked Congress today to reduce the tax breaks available to U.S. oil companies operating overseas and to ease the demands of present clean air laws.

The President sent Congress a new energy message urging passage of the emergency legislation previously proposed and adding some new proposals.

Nixon's new measure would, if adopted:

—Eliminate the 22 per cent depletion allowance granted U.S. companies producing oil abroad.

—Reduce the amount of foreign income tax which U.S. oil companies can credit directly against their taxes in the United States.

—Extend for two more years the emission standards now applying to 1975 automobiles.

—Remove the present requirement for a 90 per cent reduction in nitrogen oxide emissions in 1976 cars.

—Extend the legal deadline for meeting clean air standards in metropolitan areas which otherwise would need "unreasonable transportation controls."

—Permit temporary relaxation of clean air deadlines and requirements for power plants and other sources which cannot get an adequate supply of clean energy.

—Speed the licensing and construction of atomic power plants by encouraging standardized plant designs, establishing an inventory of approved locations for future power plants and separating the questions of site approval from reactor licensing.

Meanwhile, at the Capitol, the Senate's investigating subcommittee chaired by Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., continued into a third day its hearings on the energy crisis. Executives of seven leading oil firms were witnesses.

Jackson became angry at one point when Exxon vice president Roy A. Baze was unable to provide some figures on his firm's fourth quarter earnings.

"These are just childish responses, Mr. Baze," Jackson said, adding "I guess we're going to have to start slapping subpoenas on some of you."

Jackson reported earlier that the administration is considering rolling back prices on domestic oil production.

Jackson, one of the most influential Congress members in the energy field, emerged from a meeting of Nixon and bipartisan Senate-House leaders to report a price rollback as a possibility.

The Nixon message was expected to include a proposal to tax excess profits by the oil companies, a matter of growing congressional interest.

William E. Simon, the administration's energy policy chief, was reported by Jackson to have authority to order the price rollback on new domestic oil production which the senator termed essential.

Jackson conceded legislation would be needed to cut the prices on output from stripper wells producing no more than 10 barrels a day.

Meanwhile, the controversial issues of gasoline rationing and energy conservation were taking a temporary back seat to growing congressional demands for a change in tax breaks given big oil.

"Our tax policy, instead of encouraging energy development in the U.S., has made the Arab nations self-sufficient," Jackson said Tuesday as his investigations subcommittee wound up its second day of quizzing oil companies executives on the extent of the energy crisis.

Dutch Tanker Rescues 23 Crewmen

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON — South Vietnam (AP) — A Dutch tanker rescued 23 Dutch Vietnamese crewmen of a patrol boat sunk last Saturday in the battle for the Paracel islands, the Saigon command announced today.

The command said two of the men died shortly after they were picked up and two others were in serious condition.

Saigon's chief military spokesman, Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, said South Vietnamese ships and a spotter plane were searching for the other 59 crewmen of the sunken ship. But he said the survivors reported their captain and a large number of their shipmates were still aboard when the ship went down.

The survivors stayed afloat for 79 hours in life preservers before the tanker Kopionella picked them up about 175 miles east of Da Nang and about 50 miles west of the Paracel archipelago, Hien said.

He said the men reported: Their ship was hit by a Chinese missile and set afire last Saturday morning. The captain ordered the crew to abandon ship but stayed aboard himself, and a "large number" of the men remained with him. An hour later, the Chinese opened fire again, and the boat sank six hours later.

The survivors were picked up at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Hien said. They were transferred early today to a South Vietnamese patrol craft and taken to a hospital in Da Nang.

After the battle last Saturday and Sunday, Saigon said a Chinese amphibious force overran a garrison of 62 South Vietnamese who were put ashore to reinforce the Vietnamese claim to the barren, coral Paracel islands and any oil deposits that may be beneath the ocean floor around them.

China also claims the Paracels, and its claim was recognized by the 1951 San Francisco peace treaty after World War II.

An American civilian employed by the U.S. Defense Department is also missing in the Paracel battle. The U.S. Embassy said today that he was Gerald Emil Kosh, 27, of Lafayette Hill, Pa.

The Embassy said Kosh, a former Marine officer, was a liaison officer with the South Vietnamese navy in Da Nang. It said he went to the Paracels on Jan. 15, before the trouble developed, on a South Vietnamese navy boat making a routine inspection.

China has announced that it captured "personnel of the other side" during the battle and would return them "at an appropriate time." But it has said nothing about an American among the captives.

The Saigon command also reported today that fighting had dropped to its lowest level in six weeks as South Vietnam began the three-day Tet celebration of the lunar new year.

In Cambodia, the government rushed 2,000 reinforcements today to the marshland two miles southwest of Phnom Penh to counter a new Khmer Rouge threat to the city. It was the rebels' closest advance toward the capital in six months.

The size of the rebel force was not known. But military sources said 13 persons were killed and more than 20 wounded by 75mm cannon fire in the area, and the Khmer Rouge overran a militia company just north of the Prek Thnot river, killing two militiamen and wounding 11.

To Increase

Corn Planting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Indiana farmers are expected to increase corn plantings this year by about 11 per cent over 1972, the Agriculture department says.

The Department's Jan. 1 survey of farmers said Indiana will plant 6 million acres to corn, 111 per cent of the 1973 plantings.

Soybean plantings are expected to be down about 4 per cent. The survey showed farmers would plant 4.15 million acres in beans, 96 per cent of last year's plantings.

Mason-Dixon Line No Restriction For County Music

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Show No. 2 of NBC's new "Music Country U.S.A." series is on tonight. But if it's like last week's premiere show, the series should be retitled "Music Country Lip-Sync U.S.A."

The lip-synch, if you've never heard of it, is an ancient television dodge by which singers don't actually sing. They just silently mouth the words of songs — usually their latest hit — they've recorded earlier in a studio.

It's occasionally justified, though I'd say only when both new material and technical considerations make it necessary.

But doing a hit record lip-synch on what is billed as a different kind of television musical is akin to getting people to buy pumpkin farms, then canceling Halloween. It's a flimflam.

Only Jerry Reed, the host of the first show, and singer-guitarist Johnny Russell seemed to have the honesty to pass up the safety of the lip-synch and take their chances as the videotape rolled.

True, Reed was singing to previously recorded background arrangements, but at least he wasn't relying on the smoother performances you get when you do the whole thing in a studio.

The show's thesis is that the Nashville sound now is national. Nobody'd doubt that, but you don't need Ray Stevens all bundled up, playing piano with gloves on and doing his thing in the middle of Wall Street during a December snowstorm to prove the point.

In his effort to emphasize the wide appeal of country music, executive producer Greg Garrison taped parts of the show in such un-Southern locales as Indiana, Washington, D.C., the Staten Island ferry, Hidden Valley and Big Sur, Calif., and the High Sierra.

All visually well and good, but I think he's losing a lot of the relaxed atmosphere of country music by not staying below the Mason-Dixon line, where all but one of the 15 artists on last week's show customarily record.

Simon Schedules Meeting With Teamsters Union

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal energy chief William Simon scheduled a meeting today with the president of the Teamsters Union and the secretaries of transportation and labor to discuss truckdrivers' grievances related to the fuel-shortage situation.

Some truckers' groups are calling for nationwide shutdowns — one of them wanting it to start Thursday, another holding to a Jan. 31 deadline.

Simon cancelled a meeting Tuesday with another truckers' group, which came to Washington from Oklahoma for discussions it hopes will take the steam out of the shutdown advocates.

The anti-shutdown — United Truckers of America Inc. — left a meeting with a White House energy-policy aide Tuesday encouraged that the administration would address some of its problems in a statement Friday.

The drivers, especially independents who own their rigs, are protesting higher diesel fuel prices and instability of supplies. They have charged fleet operators with hoarding their fuel allocations and then going to truck stops to buy "the independents' supply."

Many truckers have said that a combination of higher diesel prices and lower speed limits — reducing their per-mile wages — is driving them out of business.

Israeli Troops

Begin Pullback

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Israeli troops and tanks began pulling back from the west bank of the Suez Canal today, two days ahead of schedule, military sources said.

The Israelis, withdrawing to lines about 12 miles east of the canal, also began digging up thousands of land mines and communications lines from the sands of occupied Egypt proper.

The desert road from Cairo to the city of Suez at the southern terminus of the canal was opened to the Egyptians, the sources said. The road has been closed since last October's Arab-Israeli war when Israeli forces occupied almost 1,000 square miles west of the canal.

Cairo newspapers published reports from Israel saying helicopters and convoys of trucks were moving the Israeli equipment off the west bank.

The withdrawal was scheduled to begin Friday at the latest in accordance with the Egyptian-Israeli disengagement agreement negotiated last week by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger.

Oil Price Increase Boosts Revenue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Staggering price increases in petroleum are expected to raise the revenues of 11 leading oil exporting countries from $22.7 billion in 1972 to $85 billion this year, $100 billion in 1975 and $171 billion in 1980, World Bank President Robert S. McNamara says.

The countries to reap the extra money, according to the report, are: Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, Abu Dhabi, Qatar, Iraq, Iran, Algeria, Libya, Nigeria, Indonesia and Venezuela.

In a memorandum circulated among executive directors of the bank, McNamara said adjustments of the world economy to these higher prices dominate the economic outlook for 1974.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger predicted Tuesday that success in the Arab-Israeli withdrawal negotiations would lead to an end of the Arab oil embargo. But there have been no predictions of a rollback in oil prices.

American officials estimate the oil bill for the less developed countries will soar to $15 billion to $17 billion this year, compared with $5.2 billion last year.

Jamieson said Exxon's earnings from petroleum and natural gas operations in the United States rose 16 per cent from $715 million in 1972 to $833 million last year, on a sales increase of 14.1 per cent.

"This means that while prices rose, particularly in the latter part of the year, these increased prices reflected higher raw material and product costs in supplying the additional sales volume," Jamieson said.

Exxon is the second major oil company to report how it fared financially in the fourth quarter of 1973, when the Arab oil embargo was begun and retail prices of petroleum and natural gas fuels climbed sharply.

On Tuesday, Cities Service Co., 14th largest in the industry, said its fourth quarter earnings were nearly 50 per cent higher than its profits in the comparable period of 1972.

Cities Service Co., the nation's 14th largest oil firm, said Tuesday the preliminary figures showed profits of $42.1 million, or $1.62 per share of common stock, compared with $28.1 million, or $1.08 a share, in the final quarter of 1972.

Several other major oil firms are expected to issue year-end reports this week showing similarly steep increases. The fourth quarter reports will provide the first concrete evidence of how the oil companies have been faring since the start of the Arab oil embargo and the intensification of the nation's energy problems in the final months of last year.

Exxon Corp., the biggest in the industry, was scheduled to disclose its fourth quarter and full year figures at a New York news conference today.

Cities Service listed a 37 per cent gain in operating profits for all of 1973, earning $135.6 million, or $5.21 a share, against $99.1 million, or $3.84 a share, in 1972.

But Robert V. Sellers, Cities Service chairman, said the company's return on shareholders' equity, or investment, was 9.2 per cent, less than the average return for the company over the previous 10 years.

He said the earnings figures were "encouraging" but the rate of return was "not satisfactory considering the company's record high capital expansion needs."

Sellers said Cities Service needs an estimated $1.3 billion over the next three years for exploration and development of new energy supplies. This is a 39 per cent jump over the previous three years, he said.

Oil Embargo Forces U.S. To Study Other Areas

By HARRISON HUMPHRIES
Associated Press Writer

CHARLESTON W. Va. (AP) — Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., told West Virginia legislators today that the Arab oil embargo will force the United States to anticipate future crises in other areas; indeed it will force us to.

In learning to anticipate, not merely cope with crises, Percy said, U.S. public officials can begin to restore lost confidence in government.

"So let us welcome the challenge of a challenging time," he urged. "Let us prove that we are problem-solvers in an age teeming with problems."

Percy, the father-in-law of John D. Rockefeller III former West Virginia secretary of state, was invited to address a joint session of the state legislature as an Ivor Boiarsky memorial lecturer in honor of the late speaker of the House of Delegates.

"Traditionally, we have been able to cope," Percy said. "What we urgently need to learn to do now is anticipate."

"The Arab oil embargo is giving us the opportunity to anticipate future crises in other areas; indeed it will force us to."

Asserting that the United States has been on a consumption binge, Percy said the nation must curb consumption, build domestic stockpiles of metals and develop alternate sources of energy.

The United States, he said, now imports more than half its supply of six metals, and by 1985 will add iron, lead and tungsten, and by 2000 copper, potassium and sulfur, to the list.

"We would be ill-advised, to wait until the next crisis before we establish better relations with the mineral-producing nations of the world," he said.

Moccasins In First Place In College Division

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Coach Ron Shumate promised last year to bring championship basketball to the University of Tennessee-Chattanooga, and with three victorious outings last week, the Moccasins have taken over first place in the Associated Press college division poll.

Shumate led the Moccasins to a 21-8 season last year, and so far this year, they're 13-1, with their only loss at the hands of Middle Tennessee State University.

UT-Chattanooga — which defeated West Florida, Georgia State and Mercer last week — received 15 first place votes cast by the nation's sports writers and sportscasters, for a total of 590 points. UT-Chattanooga had been fourth in the poll.

A key to the Moccasins' success this year has been Walter "Moose" McGary, a third string AP Little All-American last year at center who has moved to forward this year. They also are led by Wayne Golden, who averages 18 points a game and is the nation's leading free throw shooter, averaging 87.5 per cent from the line.

Kentucky Wesleyan, which was beaten 90-89 by Drury, dropped to fifth with a 9-3 record. The Kentucky team got three first-place votes and 380 total points.

Alcorn A&M, 14-2 — with victories last week over Southern University, Mississippi Valley State and Grambling — retained second place with nine first-place votes and 498 total points.

Old Dominion moved up from seventh to third, and Fairmont State jumped from eighth to fourth in the poll. Old Dominion, 9-3, had one first-place vote and 421 points, while Fairmont State, 13-0 and the only unbeaten team in the top 15, got three first-place votes and 412 total points.

Jackson State is the only new team joining the top 15. Jackson, which is 15-1 and sustained its only loss to Alcorn A&M, leads the Southwestern Athletic Conference with a 5-0 mark.

Tennessee State, 9-3, dropped from fifth to sixth in the poll with 375 points, and Evansville, 9-4, received two first-place votes but dropped from third to seventh with a loss to Old Dominion. Sam Houston State, 13-1, moved from ninth to eighth in the poll, and Augustana, 12-2, plummeted from sixth to ninth. Wittenberg, 11-1, maintained its hold on 10th.

Rounding out the top 15 were Morgan State, which moved from 12th to 11th; Armstrong St., which jumped from 14th to 12th; Jackson State; Midwestern, which fell from 11th to 14th, and Southeast Louisiana.

"He Sat In The Stands And Prayed"

By BLOYS BRITT

AP Auto Racing Writer

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.

(AP) — How, you ask, did Herschel McGriff, who owns the town of Bridal Veil, Ore., and the "Almost Heaven West Virginia" race car get together?

Especially McGriff, who was born 46 years ago in Muncie, Ind., lived in South Dakota, then Oregon, and banded around the old dirt bull ring tracks in the south almost 30 years ago.

"Well, I knew some people back in West Virginia who wanted to promote tourism for the state," says McGriff. "They asked me to put a racing team together for them, and I didn't know a driver who is better than I am."

The race car is a Dodge, painted a finely-rubbed blue and gold, the official colors of the Mountaineer state. It will compete in a dozen big races on the Grand National circuit of the National Association for Stock Car Racing.

McGriff will be at the wheel in all of them, and he expects to show his tail pipes to the southern hot shots, some of whom are sons of drivers the somewhat ancient McGriff used to compete against in the 1940s.

As a matter of fact, the "Almost Heaven West Virginia" car was built by the Petty family in North Carolina, and the Pettys will crew it at the tracks.

McGriff raced many times against Lee Petty, the patriarch of the Petty clan. Lee Petty retired 15 years ago and his son, Richard, went on to become stock car racing's first $1 million winner and the first driver to win four Grand National championships. Lee Petty had won three before he quit.

In 1954, when most stock car races were run on dirt, he won four races, finished fifth in the championship standings, wound up very nearly broke, and went back to Oregon to make his fortune.

He chose the lumber business, and the man he went to work for is Ray Park, who heads the group of West Virginia businessmen who are bringing McGriff back to the big action.

McGriff started with Park as a buyer, worked up to become manager of the firm's big lumber mill in Oregon, then quit in 1961 to form his company. He picked Bridal Veil as his headquarters.

"Bridal Veil really isn't a town," says McGriff. "It's sort of a community. It's right on the Columbia River, probably the prettiest setting in the Northwest."

So handsome, in fact, that the state of Oregon recently encroached on McGriff by condemning and buying Bridal Veil Falls for a state park. McGriff owned the Falls.

"They want to buy all my property," said McGriff, who still operates the lumber mill at Bridal Veil. "What they don't realize is that I plan to build a motel on my side of the river that has the best view of the falls, and they are going to fight to get it."

His friends say McGriff is a millionaire. He answers such queries with a smile, usually commenting that "money is something one never has enough of."

McGriff stayed away from racing 14 years, but started driving again three or four years ago. In 1970, he won 23 of the 33 sportsman events and in 1971 he captured six Grand National west races and 16 of 27 sportsman outings.

"I have kept in shape," the older said recently. "Right now, I'd take on all those younger drivers in a foot race around the track," he said, sucking in his lean mid-section. "I work without glasses, eat heartily, work long hours, and have a ball. I have never felt better in my life."

McGriff says racing "is something that gets in your blood and stays there. It's like a disease. Once you are hooked, you are always hooked."

His son, Herschel Jr., is racing his own car. His daughter married Chuck Brown Jr., whose father also is a racer and competes each season against his own son and the two McGriffs.

McGriff, the elder, says he can't wait to get into action again at such tracks as Daytona, Charlotte and Darlington.

"I went to Daytona with my own car a couple of years ago to see if I still had the skill on the desire," McGriff recalls. "Look at the record book. I finished fifth." McGriff says he raced in the first event he ever saw, in 1945.

"My father was a roving preacher. He went around setting up churches in towns where there wasn't one. We had a Hudson, and one day I heard about a race nearby, and I borrowed the Hudson."

"My father sat in the stands and prayed."

"He has never seen another race."

Monday night the GHS wrestling squad continued to cause a stir, successfully downing Edgewood varsity, 45-12; B-Team, 63-6. And that coming on top of a win over Plainfield Friday night Jan. 18 with varsity, 57-6; B-Team, 68-8. The wins demonstrate that GHS wrestling coach, Dan Layton, is well on the way to realizing his goal of winning the (WIC) Western Indiana Conference title.

It is might that motivates the good team that wrestling coaches Layton and John Lanie have put together, and it must be one of the best to show up here.

Kenny Ferrand, 155 pounder, is 8-0, and the only member of the team to be undefeated so far. Coming close upon Ferrand are Lee Pingleton, 8-1; Gary Lemmink, 8-1; Kirk Masten, 8-1 and according to coach Layton, all other records are outstanding in that no individual on the varsity squad has less than a .500 per cent won-lost record.

Already having beaten two tough squads earlier, Crawfordville, Dec. 20; and Martinsville, Dec. 13, the Tiger Cubs duel varsity record is now 6-1, B-Team 7-0.

Noteworthy bouts Monday night were in the 155 lbs., 167 lbs., and heavy weight classes.

Kenny Ferrand, 155 pounder, won by fall, 2:43; Randy O'Neal, 167 pounder, scored a winning decision, 7-2; Fisher, heavy weight, won by fall, 2:47.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Prof. Bill and our other psychology teachers are forced to assume the duties of many college economic profs. for the latter have let Americans become dupes for attacks on "Big Business." Politicians falsely accuse "Big Business" of excessive profits.

CASE Z-534: Bill T., aged 34, teaches Applied Psychology. "Dr. Crane," he told me at luncheon, "do you know the reason why I adopted your college textbook, "Psychology Applied" in all my courses on that subject?"

When I shook my head, he continued:

"For 3 reasons! First, you included a chapter on 'Psychology Goes to Church' wherein you debunk the smart aleck sophistry of many young clergymen who prate that God is dead.

"Second, because you staunchly defend our American 'free enterprise' system.

"For I believe it is up to psychologists to debunk a lot of false notions that economic professors have foisted on young people.

"And I like your practicality, as shown in your own 77 dramatic, 5-minute class demonstrations that make students look forward eagerly to the next class session."

PRACTICING PSYCHOLOGIST!

Prof. Bill is obviously an astute practicing psychologist, as shown by his deft use of the "Compliment Club" strategy.

But he also represents those psychologists who can actually practice what they preach!

Far too many reputed psychologists try to expound on Marriage Counseling, yet have been divorced sometimes twice or thrice.

And they attempt to show you how to rear your children, though their own youngsters have been shiftless hippies or delinquent addicts of "pot," vandalism and drunken driving.

When I started writing this practical column on medicopsychology, another columnist was also authoring a feature along the same lines.

But he had then been divorced 3 times!

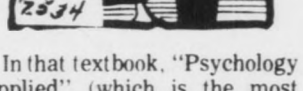

Many of you readers said you preferred an authority who would practice what he preached.

How can economic profs permit such ignorance on the part of college youth?

Which is why we psychology teachers must step into the breach and help save our Republic, with its superb "Free Enterprise" system.

So send for my booklet "How to Save Our Republic," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents.

And check on your colleges to see if they stress Applied Psychology, since that is our final hope to salvage Uncle Sam!

"NOBODY SAID ANYTHING"...

Only Memory Of Air Crash Was The Sound Of The Wind

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—One of the survivors of a light plane crash which killed four prominent Indiana men, including Indianapolis energy chief, said the thing that sticks out most in his mind after the troubles began was the silence and the sound of the wind.

"Nobody was saying anything. My only recollection of those moments was the sound of the wind," Indianapolis attorney Ron Lieber said.

Mark Law's Anniversary

By BARTON REPPERT
Associated Press Writer

Abortion supporters and opponents rallied, picketed, petitioned and staged symbolic funerals to mark the one-year anniversary of a Supreme Court decision which invalidated most anti-abortion laws.

In New York City, several hundred midtown Manhattan strollers crowded the steps of St. Patrick's Cathedral as a feminist group crowned a woman "pope." The bogus pontiff then issued an "encyclical" denouncing "1,900 years of blasphemous sexist oppression by the Catholic Church."

About 30 members of the New York chapter of the National Organization for Women demonstrated outside the Manhattan offices of Sen. James L. Buckley, R-Con.-N.Y., the sponsor of an anti-abortion constitutional amendment.

They carried chains and chanted: "Compulsory Childbirth Is Slavery for Women."

Terence Cardinal Cooke, the Catholic archbishop of New York, repeated his support for the Buckley anti-abortion amendment. He also participated in the announcement of plans for a Center for Parent and Child Development at New York Foundling Hospital, which would include a program for unmarried mothers.

About 10,000 persons gathered Tuesday at Independence Mall in Philadelphia for an anti-abortion rally sponsored by the National Right to Life Committee, which is pressing for a constitutional amendment that would overturn the high court's ruling.

In Miami, members of a local Right to Life group rode in more than 30 black-bannered cars which cruised slowly with headlights on past the Dade County abortion referral clinic at Jackson Memorial Hospital.

In Washington, D.C., hundreds of demonstrators took part in an anti-abortion "March for Life" that began and ended with speeches on the Capitol steps.

Russell Means To Face Current Head In Election

PINE RIDGEE S.D. (AP)—Early election returns indicate that American Indian Movement leader Russell Means will face the current head of the Oglala Sioux Tribe in a general election for tribal president next month.

Unofficial returns of Tuesday's primary election from all but the largest precinct on the Pine Ridge Reservation gave Means 534 votes to Tribal President Richard Wilson's 457.

They lead a field of 12 candidates. The two candidates with the most votes will face each other in the Feb. 7 general election.

Voting officials suspended counting ballots Tuesday night in the largest precinct on the reservation in extreme southwestern South Dakota. Wilson held a slight edge there. Counting was to resume today.

Wilson said the early results "shows that AIM is stronger on the reservation than I'd thought."

Wilson had predicted Tuesday that he would finish well ahead of Means in the primary.

Means is on trial in U.S. District Court in St. Paul, Minn., for his role in last year's takeover of the reservation village of Wounded Knee. The trial was recessed Tuesday so Means could vote at the reservation.

Means, 34, said the election was a fight for Indian treaty rights, not just a battle between AIM and the more conservative element within the Indian community.

The Indians who took over Wounded Knee for 71 days contended the western half of South Dakota belonged to the Sioux Nation under an 1868 treaty with the federal government.

They also protested government treatment of Indians and claimed there was corruption from the Bureau of Indian Affairs in Washington to Wilson's office in Pine Ridge.

He was one of two survivors of the Jan. 10 plane crash. The other, Kent S. Arvin, remains in poor condition at a Jacksonville, Fla., hospital.

Killed in the crash were Robert C. Morris, Indiana's energy chief; John Neff, an unsuccessful candidate for Indianapolis mayor in 1971; Capt. W. Robert Greene, head of the Indianapolis City Police homicide division; and C. Donald Greene, the police officer's brother and the pilot of the plane. Neff, Lieber and Arvin were law partners.

In a telephone interview with William M. Shaw of the Indianapolis Star, Lieber said he cannot remember being frightened, only "real worried."

"We just took off from Jacksonville and everything seemed to be going fine for about the first minute. It was very uneventful," he recalled.

The men were taking a four-day vacation trip to Freeport in the Bahamas.

"When we reached an altitude of about 350 to 400 feet we started to bank left towards the ocean and I was looking out the window trying to see the water when I heard an engine go dead."

He vaguely remembers the pilot at this point talking to the tower and saying something about trying to restart the dead engine. Federal investigators who listened to a tape of the conversation said the pilot was frantically seeking clearance to return to the field.

"It wasn't until the plane started gyrating that I had the feeling we were in deep trouble. The wings started to flap and the plane started to shake but nobody said anything. Then I heard the wind and the next thing I remember I was waking up in the hospital," Lieber recounted.
